The Spiral Morphology

The formal account: a generative morphology of relational genesis, one forced move from a unitive premise, every claim load-rated by what it can and cannot support.

Read left to right.

WHAT IT IS

Seed carries the whole argument at one focal length. Cathedral unfolds it room by room. Lens shows the instrument in use.

WHO IT'S FOR

Anyone who wants to know whether any of this holds. One of the three picks for scientists.

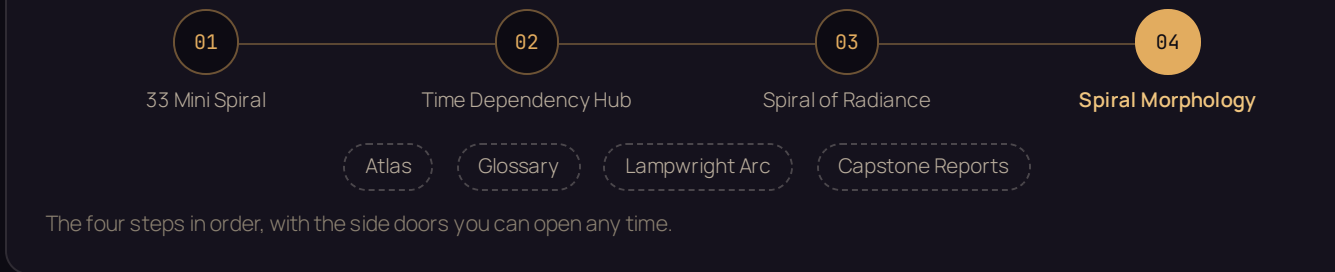

WHERE TO BEGIN

1. `00_the-spiral-morphology_readme_start-here.md`
2. Then Seed, Cathedral and Lens, in order, one at a time.
3. Attach each one with its prompt from the prompt guide.

HOW IT RELATES

The ground underneath the whole library. DOI 10.5281/zenodo.21983931.

WHERE THIS SITS IN THE LIBRARY

The four steps in order, with the side doors you can open any time.

The prompts are at `iucdm.org/library/docs/prompts-spiral-morphology.html`, with a Copy button on each, and in `00-HUMAN-PROMPT-GUIDE.md` in this folder.
